

California Proposition 65 Compliance Statement

September 13, 2019

Sullins Connector Solutions strives to provide high quality, safe products for our customers. We are dedicated to meeting consumer safety requirements applicable to our products, including California Proposition 65, which requires businesses to provide warnings to consumers about exposures to chemicals that cause cancer, birth defects or other reproductive harm. An official list of these substances can be accessed at <https://oehha.ca.gov/proposition-65/proposition-65-list>.

Sullins products are manufactured with an extensive range of high quality contact materials and plating. As is standard for electronic connectors, Sullins products may contain chemicals listed on the California Prop 65 List, such as Nickel.

Please contact support@sullinscorp.com if you have any additional questions.

Sincerely,

Sullins Connector Solutions
